“Canadian-Polish Relations in Wartime, 1914-1945” is a presentation covering how the twentieth century’s world wars brought Canadians and Poles together as partners in the fight for freedom, both on and off the battlefield. It will cover various episodes with a focus on the Canadians who played important roles in the relationship.

Edward Poznanski graduated from Carleton University with an Honours Bachelor of Arts degree with specialization in history and political science, followed by a Master of Arts degree with specialization in public administration. He also served for 9 years with the Royal Canadian Artillery and has had a career in the Public Service of Canada for over 36 years.
